Update 8th April 2021

Progress on this project has been delayed due to a reassignment of our case at Historic England and basically we had to go back to the start.

However, this last week has seen great progress now we are liaising with a gentleman at Midlands Region of Historic England.

Rob Fleming, conservation stone mason and Historic England have been corresponding directly and come up with a plan for the restoration work.

Historic England, now, do not want the monument steam cleaned, and another method has been decided on. Rob Fleming is currently contacting the necessary experts on this hot lime method.

Going forward - Rob will get a quote for hot lime cleaning method, (this may take a little time) and produce a specification for restoration work.

We then have to complete an application form with all the details and submit to Historic England.
